- Block4: The place changes even if the PCs stand still. Local people, creatures, weather, signage, and ward behavior all keep moving around the scene. The party can damage fragile channels by rushing. Weak ward posts put field workers and crops at risk. Ignoring local directions wastes time. A channel coughs up cold light instead of water. A farmer stops mid-sentence to listen to a post go silent. The Keystone pulses toward Open Vale. Let the place be funny through overconfident signage, awkward forms, stubborn local habits, and magic that refuses corporate language.

- Visual Assets: location-visual-assets-v1 hush-farms Hush Farms Bright comedic frontier high-fantasy concept art for a Daggerheart-adjacent tabletop RPG. Medieval/Renaissance fantasy technology only: hand tools, wagons, ropes, parchment notices, ward-stones, carved wood, brass, cloth, stone, moss, lanterns, and magic.

The tone is colorful, playful, slightly absurd, and vivid, like a fantasy corporate frontier comedy rather than a grim drama. No sci-fi machinery, no 1800s/Victorian clothing, no modern suits, no guns, no logos, no readable text, no watermark, no border, no collage. /Users/kyle/Documents/My Games/Peril To Profit/story-atlas/src/location_visual_assets/hush-farms MAP-LOC-hush-farms wetland farm edge farm and canal map profile_scene Profile image ready /Users/kyle/Documents/My Games/Peril To Profit/story-atlas/src/location_visual_assets/hush-farms/profile_scene_v02.png...

- Imagine It Like: A terraced rice paddy or a cranberry bog crossed with a bioluminescent cave. Think wetland market-garden where the crops are also the night-lights.
