

Emeris Capital Gate

Hook

A great arch of pale carved stone three wagons wide, with toll-counters clacking beneath it and the green dark of Sablewood waiting beyond.

Arrival Read

A great arch of pale carved stone rises three wagons wide, its keystone leafed in gold and its faces worn smooth by a century of carved caravans setting out. Beneath it runs a permanent little fair: toll-counters clacking, a crier calling the morning rates, a stall hawking...

Known For

The western threshold of Emeris, route tolls, courier departures, gate charms, caravan queues, and the first straight look into Sablewood.

What Is Here

Local residents or workers appropriate to the place horse-goats stamping in harness paperfin swifts nesting in arch nooks market beetles under food carts guide dogs sleeping in shade No default combatant; add only if the scene introduces one Emeris Crown...

Food And Texture

Travelers buy fried dough, hot spiced cider, route tokens, painted gate charms, and advice from people who may or may not have survived the road themselves.

You Could

- Look for the busiest local gathering point.
- Ask what has changed here recently.

Export Stamp

Build 2026-07-05T12:33:16 | Content hash 60e4f2669f86031d | Source hash 6753a06c32e5dca07a19eb73