

Sealed Keystone Crate

Player-facing description

A sealed crate sits in the back of the carriage, heavier than it looks, banded shut, and unmarked. You're told three things: it is important, you are not to open it, and it goes to the village.

Public role

The sealed package the party is hired to escort

Handout text

The package is sealed and important. Deliver it. Do not open it.

- Image Prompt: Private table TTRPG story atlas asset for Sealed Keystone Crate, Item / Asset. Role: The sealed package the party is hired to escort. Summary: A heavy sealed crate in the back of the carriage. In the Prologue it is only the package.. Cinematic fantasy concept art, readable silhouette, no visible text, no UI, no watermark. Do not include the Strixwolf Mother, strixwolf pups, wolves, owlbeats, or animal companions.
- Personality: A locked, humming cargo crate that makes the hidden ward-stone legible at the table without exposing it too early.; use Sealed Keystone Crate as a concrete table object with texture, ownership, and a reason it matters now.
- Wants: Give players a tangible handle on Keystone Asset, Escort Carriage, Emeris

Crown Holdings, whether they inspect, carry, return, trade, or refuse it.

- Fears: Being treated as treasure clutter instead of evidence, memory, hospitality, or infrastructure with consequences.
- Secrets: No forced reveal. Let this entity disclose truth through scene context and player attention.
- Body Language: Give it one tactile detail when introduced. Connect it to a choice, clue, or consequence.
- Sample Dialogue: A locked, humming cargo crate that makes the hidden ward-stone legible at the table without exposing it too early.
- Equipment: cold brass hinges anti-tamper wax ward-stamped cargo webbing
- Search Or Loot: Tampering logs the attempt and may create later corporate attention; careful inspection shows the cargo is ward-related.
- Gm Use: Use when the scene needs a concrete object for players to inspect, carry, debate, or remember.
- Future Hooks: Bring back as an echo if players made a strong choice involving this entity.
- Robust: A sealed crate sits in the back of the carriage, heavier than it looks, banded shut, and unmarked. You're told three things: it is important, you are not to open it, and it goes to the village. This is the container around the Keystone Asset, but the Prologue must never put that name in player-facing text. Cold brass hinges, anti-tamper wax, cargo webbing, and a faint hum that might be magic or imagination. Stay sealed, stay on the carriage, and pull player curiosity without inviting an early reveal. Tampering, public inspection, theft, and careless magic. Make the mystery physical without solving it. The crate is a job constraint first and a reveal later. Knowledge / Instinct / Presence as fits the table 15 Learn the clean fact about Sealed Keystone Crate and one deeper connection. Learn the useful fact and gain a follow-up question. Learn the fact, but reveal who notices, who is endangered, or what timer advances. Miss the full answer, but gain a sensory clue or safe next step. Misread the pressure and invite a GM move tied to cost, custody, or danger. Spend Fear to reveal the system behind the object, move a threat closer, or make a choice more costly.
