- Mood: spatial reference and location texture
- Gmgoal: Use this as the trust-earned safe route toward the Act 4 bridge.
- Publicobjective: A narrow farm path follows glowing irrigation water through moss, boards, root lips, and quiet field marks. It is easy to walk when someone has shown you what the marks mean.
- Readaloud: A narrow farm path follows glowing irrigation water through moss, boards, root lips, and quiet field marks. It is easy to walk when someone has shown you what the marks mean.
- Gmscript: Say: "If custodian_route is safe, this path is the reward. A guide or clear local directions gets them through without an approach hazard."
- Gmreadaloud: Glowing irrigation water. Moss, boards, root lips, and quiet field marks. A safe path only if someone taught you how to read it.
- Gmchecklist: Use only if custodian_route=safe or if players earn it with strong local help. Forward transition goes to MAP-LOC-hush-farms. Do not add a hazard on the safe path.
- Gmprivate: GM-only: even the safe route is maintained infrastructure. Do not make that a reveal unless players probe.
- Playertakeaway: A narrow farm path follows glowing irrigation water through moss, boards, root lips, and quiet field marks. It is easy to walk when someone has shown you what the marks mean.
- Storytakeaway: Trust becomes practical: locals give safer paths, not just nicer words.

- Mechanictakeaway: custodian_route=safe removes the approach hazard; unaided discovery requires Instinct 12.

It is easy to walk when someone has shown you what the marks mean. Use this as the trust-earned safe route toward the Act 4 bridge. Water channels glow under boards and root lips. Small field marks point the way without looking like signs. The safe stones are worn by local feet, not marked for outsiders. Village life stays audible: work sounds, lowered voices, doors, tools, and ward tones changing the room's confidence. Cool water, crushed moss, wet rope, and the mineral smell of channels cut through old root beds. Bridge rails are slick but familiar; the safe stones feel warmer than...

- Gmbeats: MAP-LOC-hush-safe-irrigation-path-reward Reward The reward route Say: "This is what the town's trust changes: no hazard before the treehouse." The safe path is what high trust buys. Social choices alter geography. custodian_route=safe gates the path. Players see trust pay off. Player takeaway Players see trust pay off. "This is what the town's trust changes: no hazard before the treehouse." "The playable fact is: The safe path is what high trust buys." Concrete actions for this beat: talk to a person present, inspect the named detail, help an ally, or choose whether to move toward the Custodian route. gm-moves Story takeaway Social choices alter geography. "This is what the town's trust changes: no hazard before the treehouse." "The story fact in play is: Social choices alter geography." This beat changes Act 3 through this exact pressure: Social choices alter geography. gm-moves Mechanic takeaway custodian_route=safe gates the path. "This is what the town's trust changes: no hazard before the treehouse." "The active procedure is: custodian_route=safe gates the path." Run intent first, then choose Presence, Instinct, Knowledge, Strength, or Finesse only when the fiction is risky...
- Takeawayhelp: Player takeaway The safe path is the visible payoff for trust. "Because Hush trusted you, you have the route locals actually use." "Follow the guide or marks forward to Hush Farms. If you turn back, you return to the Sunless Farms." This should feel like a reward, not skipped content. instinct gm-moves Story takeaway Trust changes the road into a known way. "The place did not become less dangerous. You became less alone in it." "A local guide or clear directions makes this automatic. Outsiders without trust do not read it cleanly." This map expresses the theme: social care becomes practical survival. instinct gm-moves Mechanic takeaway custodian_route=safe removes the approach hazard. "If custodian_route is safe, no approach roll here. The guide or local marks carry you through." "Without the route, Instinct 12 may find part of it; failure sends them to the dangerous/unknown approach." The mechanic is consequence payoff from S03-02/S03-03, not a fresh obstacle. instinct gm-moves
