The Titan's Steps climb through height, rope, sweat, and hazard pay until travel itself feels like a negotiated risk. Make vertical logistics feel lived in, not decorative. Huge pillar-like steps rise through canopy mist. Ropes, rest ledges, and pulley marks show how ordinary people make the impossible usable. Some safety lines are newer than the stone scars beneath them. Leaf-drip, insects, distant wingbeats, and animal calls that stop or resume according to pressure, not comfort. Thin air, rope fiber, bird musk, wet stone, and breath warmed inside scarves. Stone ledges are gritty at the edge and polished where thousands of palms have paused. The forest is populated even when no NPC is present; silence, birds, insects, and tracks are actionable signals. Huge pillar-like steps rise through canopy mist. Ropes...
