Player text

We are playing a fantasy delivery job in the Goldspire Territories: dangerous roads, strange magic, communities under pressure, and corporations trying to turn everything into paperwork.

Public objective

We are playing a fantasy delivery job in the Goldspire Territories: dangerous roads, strange magic, communities under pressure, and corporations trying to turn everything into paperwork.

Player bullets

- Concept: a corporate-fantasy delivery job that becomes morally complicated.
- Aim: learn Daggerheart, build the party, protect a community, and discover what the sealed delivery means.
- Tone: mostly sincere fantasy adventure, with corporate satire and dark whimsy around the edges.
- Subject matter: fantasy danger, animal peril, ambush, death, corporate exploitation, undead, and memory or fear magic.
- We can pause, soften, veil, or redirect content.

GM goal

Clarify Concept, Aim, Tone, and Subject Matter before play begins.

GM notes

- Script: Name the Concept, Aim, Tone, and Subject Matter without using the acronym as shorthand. Ask whether anything in the subject matter list needs a line, veil, or softer framing.
- CATS means Concept, Aim, Tone, Subject Matter. Expand it on first use.
- Do not turn this into a lecture; this is a table calibration beat.
- Checklist: Concept explained; Aim explained; Tone explained; Subject matter checked
