- Personality: A holy security brand that sells salvation through compliance and bills protection by the incident.; present the public face as polished enough to pass a brochure and the real function through paperwork, assets, and cost-shifting.
- Wants: Convert risk around Emeris Crown Holdings, The Keystone Asset, Bramble Union into confidence, billable certainty, or controlled liability.
- Fears: Plain evidence, human testimony, and players following the gap between promise and operational harm.
- Secrets: Its public story converts risk into confidence; its real function moves cost onto ordinary people.
- Body Language: Give it one tactile detail when introduced. Connect it to a choice, clue, or consequence.
- Sample Dialogue: Public line: A holy security brand that sells salvation through compliance and bills protection by the incident.
- Equipment: golden chalice seal white-and-silver chain-of-custody writ threat advisory placard
- Search Or Loot: A Grail writ is evidence of custody pressure, not treasure. It names the Bramble Union as an insurgent risk before hearing their claim.
- Gm Use: Keep the satire pointed at institutional behavior, not vulnerable people. Reveal function through assets, language, and consequences. Use this page to seed the manufactured-threat reframe without turning it into exposition.
- Future Hooks: Expose the gap between public assurance and operational harm. Can become evidence in the future Relay Spire manufactured-threat investigation.
- Robust: The Grail: The Grail? sells salvation-shaped security: holy escorts, blessed wards, and protection from threats it has no interest in ending. Slogan: The Grail? protects the worthy. The Grail Holy-road protection with knightly livery, righteous language, and contracts that sound like sacraments. The Grail? protects the worthy. The Grail?

sells salvation-shaped security: holy escorts, blessed wards, and protection from threats it has no interest in ending. The Grail? arrives like a sermon: knights in spotless white-and-gold, a contract written like a sacrament, a choir-sweet recruiter who calls the toll a tithe and the fee a sacrifice. Buy a Blessing of Safe Passage?, a consecrated Ward of the Worthy?, an indulgence-style Pre-Forgiveness Plan? for whatever the escort has to do to 'protect' you. They are genuinely brave and genuinely armed, and they will defend you beautifully against dangers that, conveniently, never quite get solved, because a solved threat is a closed account. To be judged worthy by The Grail is to be judged able to pay. A Grail sigil gleams from a white-and-gold shoulder plate. The escort's hand rests near the sword, but the voice stays gentle enough for a chapel. Somehow that makes the sword louder. The Grail The...
