A concealed web of tunnels and homes carved among roots where off-ledger communities survive below the dangerous surface. Underroot is not a dungeon; it is a concealed neighborhood of root rooms, low lanterns, and people who survive below the route economy. Underroot is the forest's underside: damp passages, glowing fungus, root doors, old animal routes, and the sense that the ground has a memory. The place breaks into usable table spaces: Root tunnel: Twisting roots make walls, ceiling, and handholds. Glowfungus chamber: Soft light turns water drops and old stones into landmarks. Flood pocket: A low chamber holds dark water and hidden movement. Plants and materials: glowfungus shelves, pale root hairs, water moss, small blind flowers. Animals and background life: Centi-Beetles carve low tunnels, Spidermanders press ash-damp feet into soft walls, Hellbender legends make every tremor feel observed, Fox-Bats sleep in warm cracks. The air carries drips echoing too...
