- Long Storyboard: This is the objective fight: protect the Custodian, defeat enemies, tick down the ritual clock. Run this scene as ordeal, ritual defense, and restoration: The ritual begins, and the system's unpaid risks answer. Keep the camera close to practical choices, visible consequences, and the difference between ordinary people and the infrastructure pressing on them.
- Read Aloud: The Keystone finally answers. The Custodian lifts from the ground, glowing like a lantern about to crack.
- Gm Notes: Place PCs, Custodian, skeletons, and wraiths. Explain countdown simply and visibly. Keep player-facing information actionable. Reveal systemic truth through objects, reactions, and consequences before naming it. The final ritual is now anchored in PDF Sablewood: old blue stones, mist, and luminous river logic under the corporate ritual label. Manufactured-threat lens: seed the contradiction, do not explain it. The surface goal stays simple and heroic. [REFLAVOR/GUARANTEED] Soul-Audit Wraiths bear audit glyphs and say, "Unlicensed soul-resonance detected. Submit for audit."
- Sensory Details: white flame pouring sideways stone dust lifting upward old alarms without bells
- Body Language: The Custodian cannot defend herself while channeling Enemies move toward obligation, not hatred
- Sample Dialogue: Whitefire Custodian Hold them away from the line. If the line breaks, it remembers fear first.
- Checks: Group defense Hold positions as the countdown starts. Standard Start the ritual clock with advantages or complications. 15 Clearly resolve: Hold positions as the countdown starts. Add a concrete boon, extra clue, or improved position. Success, plus the player names one helpful detail or asks one follow-up question. Success, but the GM exposes a cost, ticks a countdown, or reveals a new pressure tied to The Ritual Begins. The full goal slips, but the party still learns a useful truth or avoids the worst consequence. The GM makes a hard move that follows from the fiction and leaves the next choice visible. Spend Fear to tick the ritual countdown, expose the Custodian, activate ward backlash, or trigger Market Correction. On mixed or sliding results, reveal information in layers: visible fact, actionable clue, then systemic truth.
- Choices Consequences: Prioritize ritual line Protects ward stability. Some enemies reach the party. Prioritize enemy elimination Reduces attacks. The Custodian may take narrative pressure.

- Clues: Ritual countdown The ward is activating. Stability depends on protection, not damage output alone. The party can see progress and danger. - Player Questions: What detail in The Ritual Begins tells you the official story is incomplete? Who notices the human cost first, and how do they show it? What small object, smell, or sound makes this scene feel real?
- Relationship Prompts: Which PC quietly checks on someone else here? Who disagrees about the right thing to do without breaking trust?
- Ownership Prompt: Name one detail in The Ritual Begins that belongs to your character's point of view.
- Reveal Hooks: Loreborne or Knowledge-focused PCs can read the institutional layer. Wildborne/community-focused PCs can read local custom and ecological stress. Martial/security-focused PCs can read threat posture and custody logic. Magic-focused PCs can feel ward tone, soul-signal, or spell instability. Loreborne: spots older legal, heraldic, or ward-craft language under the branding. Underborne: notices service doors, hidden routes, and who built the thing nobody credits. Highborne: reads etiquette, class panic, and reputational risk. Ridgeborne: notices stonework, weight, pressure, and structural weakness. Wildborne: reads the land, animals, and local ecological stress. Elf/Ribbet/Human/Giant/Katari: invite one sensory or social detail from the player's heritage. Sorcerer/Rogue/Warrior/Guardian/Ranger: give each class one table-facing way to shine without changing the plot.
- Fear Spends: Spend Fear to tick the ritual countdown, expose the Custodian, activate ward backlash, or trigger Market Correction. Tick the Ritual Countdown the wrong direction or expose the Custodian. Trigger Market Correction, Pass-Through, Memory Delve, or Group Attack when fiction supports it.
- Story Scope: Perceived antagonist: the forest. True antagonist: the corporate lie about the forest. The players never confront it directly. They are meant to feel it by the end. Every act offers at least one guaranteed and one earned hint that the danger is manufactured and the forest is not the enemy. Soul-Audit Wraiths bear audit glyphs and say, "Unlicensed soul-resonance detected. Submit for audit." REFLAVOR GUARANTEED A defeated wraith leaves a Soulspire compliance tag or coil-credit token instead of natural remains. ADD GUARANTEED Wraiths ignore forest creatures and home only on ritual soul-magic. ADD EARNED Instinct Medium 15 A player can read the markings and name Soulspire without the GM naming it first. ADD EARNED Knowledge Medium 15 Optional flag: Legacy Skeletons carry scraps of old corporate credentials. FLAG SEED Soul-Audit Wraiths bear audit glyphs and say, "Unlicensed soul-resonance detected. Submit for audit." REFLAVOR GUARANTEED Instinct: target logic. Knowledge: read markings. ACT5 Act 5: Open Vale defense 200 2:40 to 3:20 3:20
