- Image Prompt Used: Cinematic pullback above Sablewood: stone relay spires break through treeline with small flames, one distant spire burns thin; party looks toward horizon from Hanging Office; no strixwolf, no Bramble Union, no undead foreground. Do not include the Strixwolf Mother, strixwolf pups, wolves, owlbeats, or animal companions unless explicitly requested. No strixwolf, no Bramble Union, no skeletons, no wraiths, no combat unless explicitly requested. 4:3 cinematic fantasy concept art, no visible text, no captions, no logos, no UI, no watermark.
- Long Storyboard: This closes the one-shot and opens the campaign door. The system's failure was not isolated. Run this scene as return, consequence, and next hook: The Relay Spire hook points beyond the one-shot without stealing this ending. Keep the camera close to practical choices, visible consequences, and the difference between ordinary people and the infrastructure pressing on them.
- Read Aloud: ?It's good to have heroes in the Old Sable again.?
- Gm Notes: End here. Do not over-explain the next adventure unless players ask. Keep player-facing information actionable. Reveal systemic truth through objects, reactions, and consequences before naming it. Manufactured-threat lens: seed the contradiction, do not explain it. The surface goal stays simple and heroic.
[KEEP/GUARANTEED] A nearby Relay Spire beacon burns weakly, pointing to the larger thread.
- Sensory Details: distant blue pulse ward chimes answering out of sync the horizon holding its breath
- Body Language: The Custodian watches the distance before saying anything Marlowe does not pretend she failed to hear
- Sample Dialogue: Whitefire Custodian If Open Vale was the symptom, the Relay Spire is where someone taught the fever to bill us.
- Checks: Knowledge or Instinct Understand the next problem just enough to want the next session. Easy Frame future hook without exposition flood. 10 Cleanly resolve: Understand the next problem just enough to want the next session. Add a concrete boon, extra clue, or improved position. Success, plus the player names one helpful detail or asks one follow-up question. Success, but the GM exposes a cost, ticks a countdown, or reveals a new pressure tied to The Relay Spire Hook. The full goal slips, but the party still learns a useful truth or avoids the worst consequence. The GM makes a hard move that follows from the fiction and leaves the next choice visible. Spend Fear to complicate the report, sharpen the relay hook, or show how the system edits a victory. On mixed or sliding results, reveal information in layers: visible fact, actionable clue, then systemic truth.
- Choices Consequences: Take the next lead Campaign continues toward infrastructure truth. Future hook active. Walk away for now One-shot closes cleanly. The hook remains in the world.
- Clues: Relay pulse There is another problem. This is the deeper antagonist scaling up. A distant node is failing in a different pattern. Guaranteed seed A nearby Relay Spire beacon burns weakly, pointing to the larger thread. A nearby Relay Spire beacon burns weakly, pointing to the larger thread.
- Loot: Relay Spire lead Custodian's trust if earned Spirekeeper Relay Keyring: A heavy ring of mismatched brass keys and blue-glass tags chimes with a sound like distant bells heard through rain. Auditor's Verdict Ledger?: A black ledger with bronze corners opens too neatly, as if the pages have already decided what the facts will be.

- Reveal Hooks: Loreborne or Knowledge-focused PCs can read the institutional layer. Wildborne/community-focused PCs can read local custom and ecological stress. Martial/security-focused PCs can read threat posture and custody logic. Magic-focused PCs can feel ward tone, soul-signal, or spell instability. Loreborne: spots older legal, heraldic, or ward-craft language under the branding. Underborne: notices service doors, hidden routes, and who built the thing nobody credits. Highborne: reads etiquette, class panic, and reputational risk. Ridgeborne: notices stonework, weight, pressure, and structural weakness. Wildborne: reads the land, animals, and local ecological stress. Elf/Ribbet/Human/Giant/Katari: invite one sensory or social detail from the player's heritage. Sorcerer/Rogue/Warrior/Guardian/Ranger: give each class one table-facing way to shine without changing the plot.
- Fear Spends: Spend Fear to complicate the report, sharpen the relay hook, or show how the system edits a victory. Make the report protect an institution unless the PCs spend effort to keep truth intact. Bring the Relay Spire hook closer through a tremor, missing keeper mark, or unpaid notice.
- Conditional Notes: S06-02 ward_stability=fragile The Relay Spire hook feels more urgent and more dangerous.
- Story Scope: Perceived antagonist: the forest. True antagonist: the corporate lie about the forest. The players never confront it directly. They are meant to feel it by the end. Every act offers at least one guaranteed and one earned hint that the danger is manufactured and the forest is not the enemy. The ritual completes, Hush is safe, and the Custodian thanks them. The win is real. KEEP GUARANTEED A Grail/Kazrak incident report thanks them for "neutralizing forest hazards" and supporting continued Protection Coverage. ADD GUARANTEED If pushed, the Custodian admits the "hazards" were not always here, then looks away.
