Duskwatch Exchange is where route knowledge changes hands quietly, because the forest charges more for ignorance. Make information feel tactile and local. Covered stalls, watch posts, coded knots, and weather-dark awnings cluster near a safer crossing. People look at boots and packs before faces. Prices shift when route bells sound. Leaf-drip, insects, distant wingbeats, and animal calls that stop or resume according to pressure, not comfort. Lantern oil, damp wool, smoked roots, and ink sealed against rain. Counters are rough plank under waxed cloth; knot-cords feel stiff from repeated handling. The forest is populated even when no NPC is present; silence, birds, insects, and tracks are actionable signals.
