- Mood: spatial reference and location texture
- Gmgoal: Make uncertainty actionable instead of vague.
- Publicobjective: The Miremist makes certainty expensive: fog, wet roots, and route sounds that arrive from the wrong distance.
- Readaloud: The Miremist makes certainty expensive: fog, wet roots, and route sounds that arrive from the wrong distance.
- Gmnotes: Atmospheric staging for wraith arrival and Far-range pressure.
- Gmscript: Say: "This is the mist edge where wraith pressure comes from. Use it to stage isolation, Far range, and rescue routes."
- Gmreadaloud: Low mist curls at the edge of the clearing. Shapes drift where the light thins. The air feels cold around memory.
- Gmcheckboxlist: Use for S05-04 only. Do not create a side route. Route wraith pressure to MAP-COMBAT-S05-06. Keep soul-economy GM-only.
- Gmprivate: The Miremist is an Atlas-original staging edge; confirm if Kyle later wants it promoted beyond atmosphere.
- Playertakeaway: The Miremist makes certainty expensive: fog, wet roots, and route sounds that arrive from the wrong distance.
- Storytakeaway: The mist makes the wraiths feel like the deep preserve reaching into the ritual.
- Mechanictakeaway: The map supports Far-range pressure, Memory Delve setup, Untethered rescue, and protected_whom writes.

- Playerquestions: Who watches the mist? Who notices a friend being isolated?
- Fearsponds: A route marker appears twice. Someone hears their name from the wrong side of the mist. The ground exhales bubbles under a boot.
- Choicesconsequences: Watch the mist edge for wraith isolation pressure. The map clarifies the active table choice instead of becoming a side route. Use the map only when spatial clarity changes the next roll, countdown tick, or protection choice. The result carries forward through Act 5 state rather than adding a new branch. protected_whom / ritual_countdown Reward: clearer play. Cost: pause only long enough to orient the table. GM-facing Atmospheric staging for wraith arrival and Far-range pressure. Mist cuts sightlines into short, pale rooms. Markers appear wet even when sheltered. Sound travels sideways; a branch snap may be near, far, or behind memory. Leaf-drip, insects, distant wingbeats, and animal calls that stop or resume according to pressure, not comfort. Peat, cold water, mushroom rot, and fog heavy enough to taste. Roots are slick and soft at the edges; mud pulls at boots like a hand. your oldest fear about your duty. Want to give it voice? barnacle Barnacle Memory Delve hook The Delve reaches for Barnacle's water-fear and the buried memory behind it. Can answer with fear, joke, refusal, or a hand reaching for another PC.

Barnacle, it reaches for the water-fear you never talk about. Want to show the table where it started? garrick-reed Garrick Reed Memory Delve hook The Delve dredges up someone he could not protect in his security past. Can ground another PC by naming mercy as strength. Garrick, it dredges up someone you couldn't protect. Want to face it? khari-nix Khari Nix Memory Delve hook The Delve reaches for the first time she could not shield someone she loved. Can take a Delve meant for a vulnerable ally or hold the line around an Untethered body. Khari, it shows you the one you couldn't save. Or you could take this hit so someone else doesn't. Which?...

- Gmbeats: MAP-LOC-the-miremist-use Use Use this board Say: "Open the board, orient the center or edge, name the current state change, then return to the active scene."

Use this board only when it makes the current finale choice clearer. The map supports the finale instead of replacing the scene. Map use writes countdown, protection, prep, outcome, or report state when it changes play. Players get spatial clarity without a side route. Player takeaway Players get spatial clarity without a side route. "Open the board, orient the center or edge, name the current state change, then return to the active scene." "The table-facing answer is: Players get spatial clarity without a side route." Use this beat to give the players one visible next action: protect the center, read the field, spend prep, name who they shield, or choose what truth leaves with them. table-spotlight countdown Story takeaway The map supports the finale instead of replacing the scene. "Open the board, orient the center or edge, name the current state change, then return to the active scene."
